NR 220 COSTS

- 1) The tuition and fees cost are the same as other CSU Summer Session courses and information about costs and billing for the course can be found at: <https://financialaid.colostate.edu/>
- 2) In addition to the course tuition and fees in early May, the $1071.20 Mountain Campus room+board+services charge will be posted to your student account by Mountain Campus Housing and Dining Services. Contact Seth Webb (seth.webb@colostate.edu) at the Mountain Campus office with questions about Housing

Please note:

To be eligible for financial aid during the summer, students need to enroll in at least 6 credits. Some students may be seeking additional credits to reach this amount. Dr. Paul Doherty (paul.doherty@colostate.edu) will offer FW 111 (Basic Outdoor Skills in FWCB) as a 1-credit option. This class will meet online and at the Mountain Campus (MC) June 13-14. This is the weekend between the first and second 4-week summer sessions. Contact Paul for details.

Other options: - Dr. Ken Shockley (kennethshockley@gmail.com) will be offering PHIL 345 (Environmental Ethics CRN 57274) for 3 credits at the MC June 14 - 27. F 230 will be offered June 13 - 27; contact Rocky Coleman (rocky.coleman@colostate.edu) about F 230. You cannot take PHIL 345 and/or NR 220 and/or F 230 at the same time. Students may also speak with their advisors about possible independent study credit.

Please see the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) on the WCNR Mountain Campus website for other information (<https://warnercnr.colostate.edu/cs-mountain-campus/>). If you can't find the answer to your question, contact Paul Doherty (below).
